WESTWIND 1982

West Henderson, High School
Hendersonville, North Carolina

HERE'S TO YOU

For a couple of months in the summer, West is little more than a group of buildings perched high on a wooded hilltop. But from August until June, Falcon Country is alive. It pulsates with life brought to it by its students and faculty in the classrooms, on the athletic fields, and in quiet shared moments. West is its people. They give it being. So, to you, Falcons all, we dedicate this yearbook.

Kim Wilkie as Big Bird, raises the spirits of the Falcon fans at a pep rally.

Our pride is showing!

A portion of the greatest student body in the world.

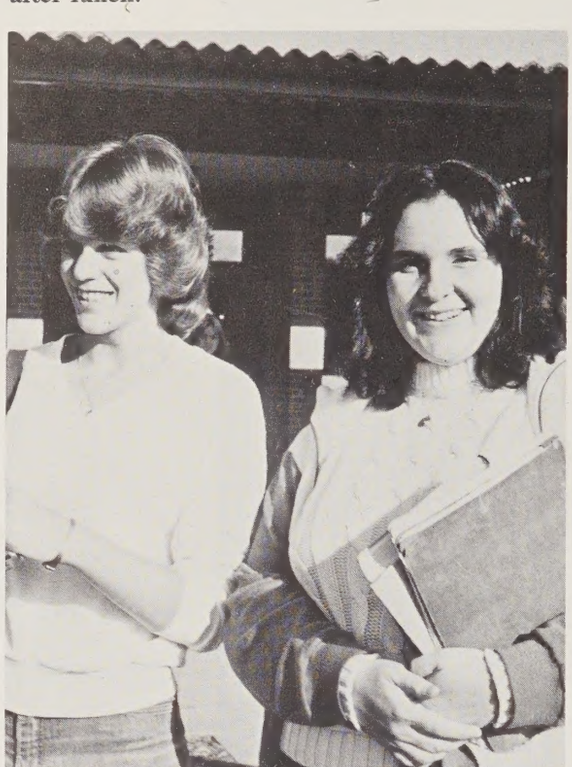
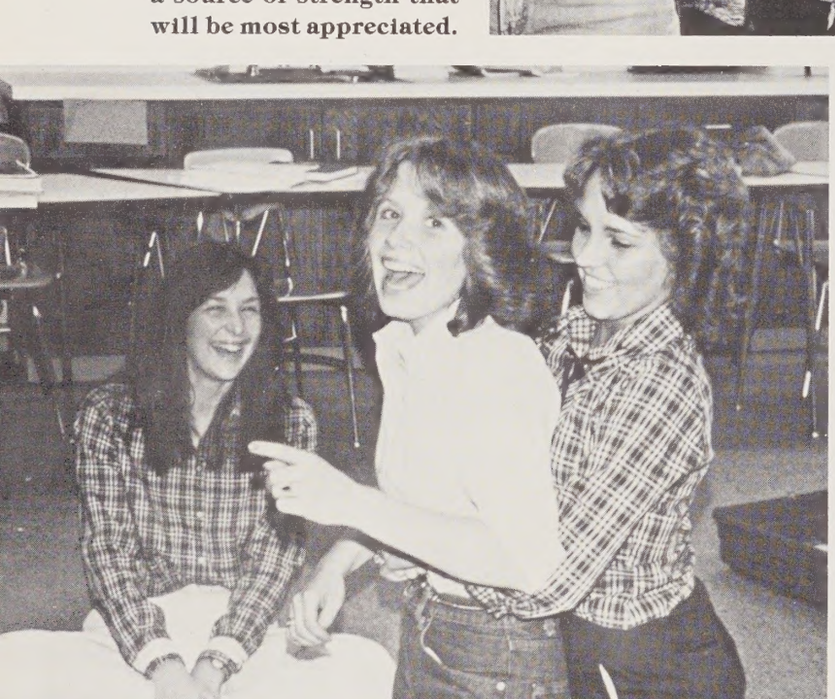
STUDENT LIFE

Lisa Genaw and Cheryl Bishop head back to class after lunch.



In the months or maybe years to come, West students will look back on their days here with an array of memories — these thoughts may be only of the good times such as ballgames like the 40-0 win over Mt. Heritage or the mime assembly or maybe the Gong Show presentation of the "General Hospital" spoof, or they may be of the time Mrs. Shaw made you do an assignment over and over again until you got it right. The fun times were there of course. But it may be the insistence on doing a good job, in whatever is undertaken, that will be a source of strength that will be most appreciated.



Sandra Whitesides finds Dawn Suttles' Heimlich maneuver on Debbie Franklin amusing.

Tina Robinson, Mary Sluder, and Carla Barnett audition for a remake of a "Three Stooges" movie.

Amanda Weaver, Kim Ricks, and Beth Lucky munch out on one of the outside benches.

Disaster looms as David Fitzpatrick, Debbie Ward, Stan Garren, and Rene Glenn share a lab experiment in Mr. Wilson's chemistry class.

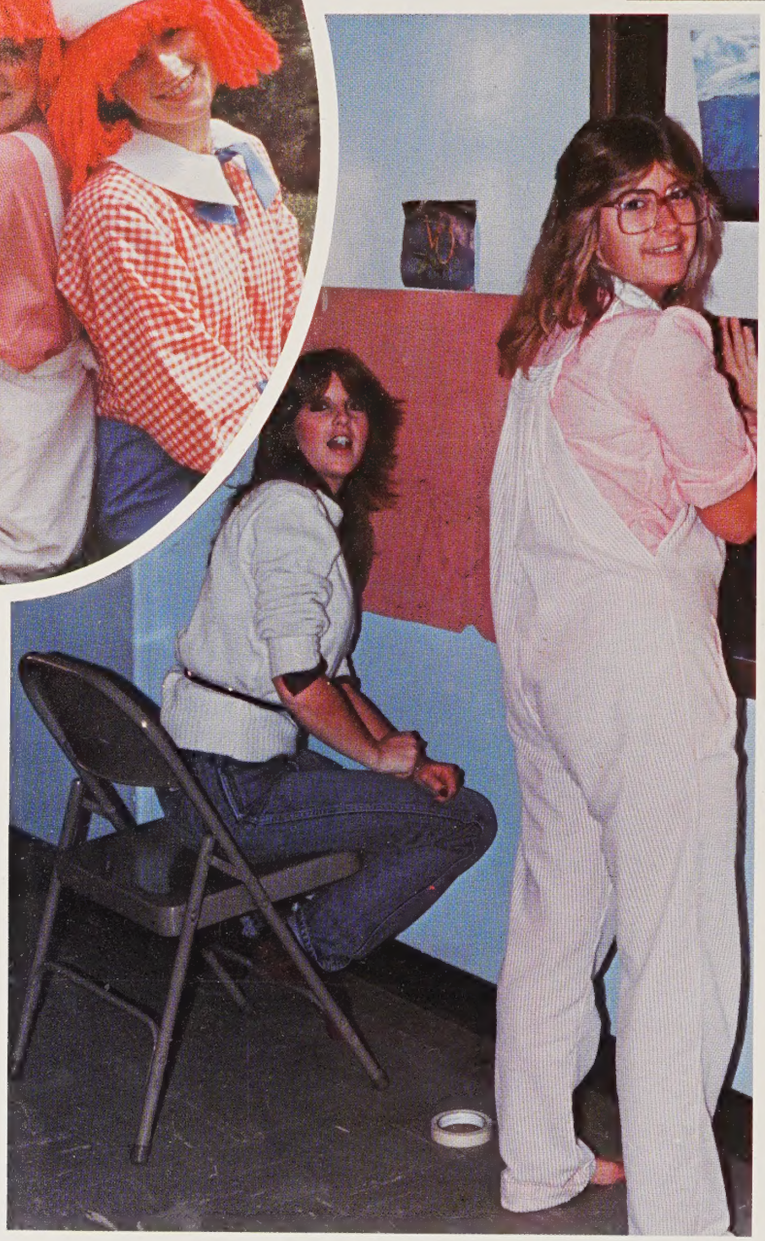
Marina Rodriguez, our foreign exchange student, won over our hearts as she introduced herself to the student body.

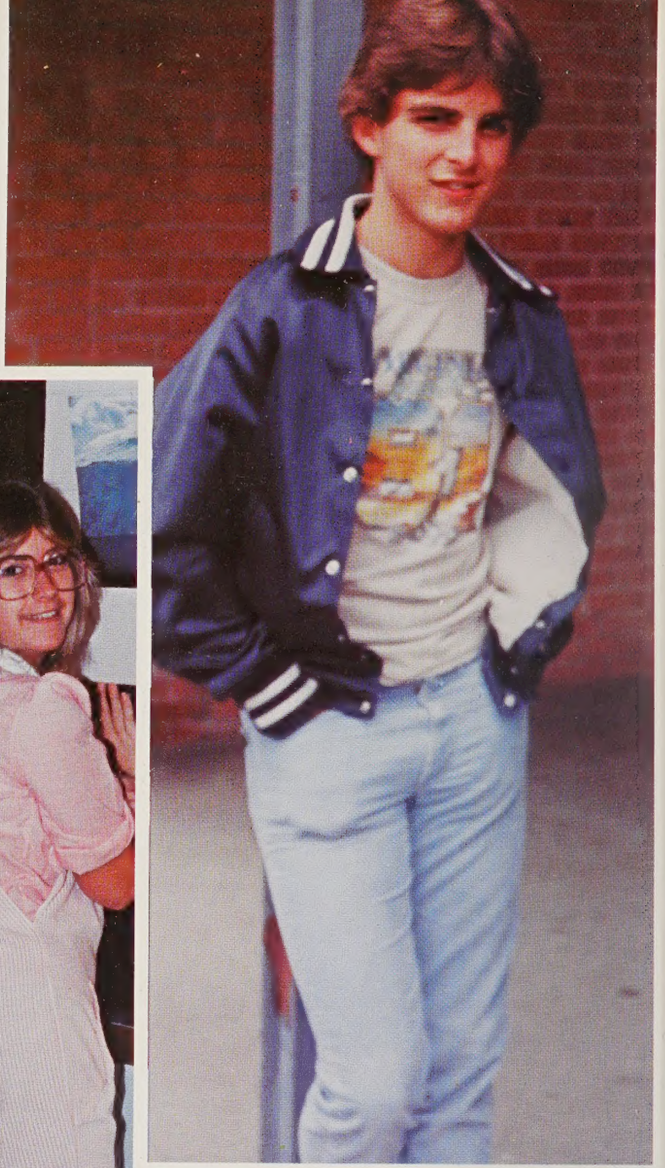
Mrs. Neill's health occupations students learn more about CPR.

Mime artist Mark McMasters entertained us in an assembly.

Raggedy Pam Ward and Raggedy Carol Parker — a couple of real dolls.

Cindy and Denise no longer get spanked for drawing on the walls.





Greg Barnett takes it easy after lunch.

Skeeter Hudson, Kara Drummond, and Tim Roberts in a not-so-musical moment.

The new look seems to be the old look. When asked what they used to wear in the 50's, most parents say penny loafers, ponytails, and button down oxford cloth shirts. Well, that seems to be the trend these days, too. To be a prep, one must wear Bass Weejuns, Madras, blazers, and Izods — pink and green for girls, and navy blue and green for guys.

Because of comfort, students still wear jeans. Calvin Klein, Gloria Vanderbilt, and other designers prevail, although Levis still reign most popular.

Fourteen karat gold seems to be the most popular accessory and adds a nice touch to any wardrobe.

But whether dressing up or dressing down, students wear what makes them feel most comfortable.

Mike Young gives Linda Hellund a "leg up."

Angela Ward, Alan Jones, and Edgar Martin admire the seniors' first place prize winning Homecoming display.

A typical day in Coach Lytton's biology class.

On September 2, 1960, the doors of West High were opened for the first time to its 512 students. Shortly afterward, in a popular election by the student body, red, white, and blue were chosen as the school colors, and the Falcon was chosen as the mascot because of its beauty and strength in flight.

Then arose the need for a school song. A member of the faculty, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Mackay, both talented and willing, composed the Alma Mater.

How true these words express our love and pride for our school.

ALMA MATER

To thee our Alma Mater
We pledge our love so true,
We dedicate our colors,
the red and white and blue.
In these our halls of learning
True knowledge you impart.
May you remain forever
within our hearts.
Thou art a light to guide us
A beacon always strong,
Our source of inspiration
To teach us right from wrong.
Thy loyal sons and daughters
Forever we shall be Devoted always to thy cause
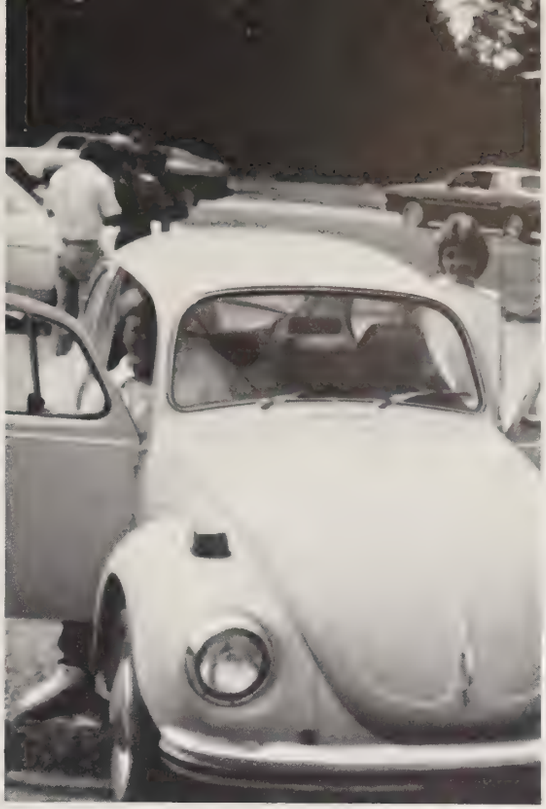
In trust and loyalty.

Sophomore class president Greg Young got what was coming to him after his class lost a magazine sale challenge to the juniors.

Master chefs, Brian Osteen and James Davis, concoct today's lunch as Thia Stewart and Jeff Harding watch with doubt.

The band warms up before playing



Heidi Owen isn't sure whether there's room for brother Bryan and her tuba.

Debbie Franklin's victim may survive, but she is sure to have a black eye.

Celebrity Gong Show judges, Ted Knight, Phillis Diller, Robert Redford, Bill Murray, and Brooke Shields may be more familiar as Mr. Jones, Mrs. O'Shields, Allan Corthell, Mr. Bagwell, and Kathy Crisp.

Carole Pace and Colby Caldwell delay returning to class as long as possible.

in the 1982 Car Show.

Mr. Mullins and Mr. Flynn discuss overcrowded conditions in the trailer.

POWDERPUFF

Being crowned queen is an honor achieved by very few fe-MALES. (S)he must be lovely, charming, exciting, and have a smile no one can forget.

This year's queen, Byron McCombs displayed all of these. (S)he, like the previous queens, reached the ultimate goal of royalty.

At the football game, which was the main attraction, the gorgeous queen and her lovely maidens reigned over an unequal tourney in which the seniors overwhelmed the juniors.

Half-time was highlighted by victory laps, pies in the face, and sweet revenge for the winners of previously arranged magazine sale challenges.

Powder Puff is an annual event sponsored by the senior class to raise money for graduation expenses and a senior gift to the school.

Queen "Bernadette" McCombs parades before her court — Carol Gilreath escorting "Lorna" Duncan, GiGi Childers escorting "Wanda" Cavagnaro, Kim Kesterson escorting Queen "Bernadette", Christine Allison escorting "Jimmy Lynn" Mathis, and Terry Hensley escorting "Jennifer" Collins.

Kim Lemmons scores the first touchdown in leading the seniors to a 28-0 victory.

Queen McCombs, with Prince Consort Kim Kesterson, begins her reign.

Mrs. O'Shields enjoys sweet revenge after her homeroom defeated Mr. Lytton's in the magazine sale challenge.

OUR GUESTS

Marina Rodriguez, foreign exchange student from Valencia, Venezuela

Marina Rodriguez is a 1980 graduate of the Instituto Maria Montessori. Before coming to the United States, where she wants to continue her education, she was studying civil engineering at Carabobo University.

Marina's father, Domingo Rodriguez Triana is in real estate. She has one brother, Misael and two sisters, Doris and Maribel. In Venezuela she enjoyed dancing, jogging, drawing, reading, and knitting. After living in the city, she says she enjoys the "country" life here. She finds the food different, but good.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Suttles and their daughters, Dawn and Reneé, are Marina's American family.

Mark McMasters is a 1980 graduate of the School of Religion at Gardner Webb College. He has studied mime at Spirit Square in Charlotte and the Dell'Arte School of Mime and Comedy in California. While spending a week at West, Mark worked with the drama students teaching them basics of mime and presented an assembly portraying several of his characters.

Mr. Akibumi Sato, an English consultant from Mizusawa, Japan, spent 10 days visiting West High in September, 1981. He observed classes, talked with students and teachers, and discussed school administration with Mr. Flynn, other county principals and Superintendent Marlow.

In Japan Mr. Sato supervises English teachers in a number of school districts. He was particularly impressed with the vocational programs at West and with the ways teachers individualize lessons for students. He especially enjoyed typing, shooting the gun in Mr. Jones' social studies class, and observing the "cheer girls".

While in Hendersonville, Mr. Sato was the house guest of Mr. Dan Pace and his wife, Dr. Amy Pace, curriculum director for Henderson County schools.

HOMECOMING

Homecoming Week, sponsored by the senior class, is always a time when school spirit and pride run extremely high.

The week of festivities for 1980 was proclaimed by dressing days. On Monday, students and even faculty appeared clad in "school" outfits. Bobby Brashears led a pep assembly in the auditorium for a small gathering in the bleachers. On Tuesday, military dress day, Mrs. Anderson was a little extreme because of the abundance of guns, knives and various weapons. Wednesday, formal dress was called for, but almost the best-dressed people would be those who showed up in sweats or hats. On Thursday, Western Day, Daniel Ivan Brown was ready for Gilley's. Penney was under day. To proclaim EVERYONE broke out their shoes, whites, and ties.

Classes might as well have been suspended on Friday. The morning was taken up with a pep rally where skits (which the seniors deservedly won), presentation of the senior homecoming queen candidates, awarding to homerooms to vote for prizes, and the traditional float crafting, display competition, annual the theme of "Believe It Or Not" from "The Great American Hero," and a lot of unauthorized out-of-class activities.

The culmination came on Friday night amid massive glances at the skies. After an extended drought, rain clouds threatened to dampen our clothes, but not our spirits. The game against Dyess was not memorable for success, but the halftime festivities, which began under the lights, climaxed with the crowning of Dawn Sartin by Sylvia Marquez, the 1980 queen, assisted by Jennifer Flynn and Janis Adams.

The alumni reception and dance which followed brought old friends together and provided a sentimental finale to one of the greatest weeks ever.

Marshall Gammon and Vicki Smartt sweep through a square dancing routine at "West High Hoop."

Even the rain couldn't dampen the Homecoming spirit.

Allison Gerlach and Jack Ivie do the

HOMECOMING

Thomas Wolfe wrote You Can't Go Home Again. This may be true. Try making an imaginary visit back to West as a graduate of ten years ago.

Your memories are of mini-skirt clad girls with the longest, straightest hair possible; of Mickey Marvin as the giant of the football field and junior class president, not knowing that the University of Tennessee and the Oakland Raiders would also come to appreciate him; of Mr. McIntyre as principal; of Mrs. O'Shields with l-o-n-g hair; of Pat Hunnicutt as a majorette, not today's Pat Shepherd of dance school fame; of bringing down the wrath of the gods when the Mississippi riverboat had to be nailed to the gym floor to keep it from tipping over during the Junior-Senior (the river overflowed its banks, too); or when even before there was the new wing of X Building, West had freshmen!

Going to any place, as it was and as we were, is impossible. Places and people grow and change. Let's hope the change will always be for the better.

Jennifer Flynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kohlan J. Flynn, and Jamie Adams, son of the Reverend and Mrs. James Adams.

Our 1981-82 homecoming court: Sophomore Denise Blackwell and her escort, Jamie Whitaker; Junior Cindy Hummel and her escort, Jeff Fisher; senior Trish Neal and her escort, Kelly Cantrell; senior Carole Pace and her escort, Skeeter Hudson; crown bearers, Jennifer Flynn and Jamie Adams; queen Dawn Suttles and her escort, Bobby Ewbanks; senior Kathy Crisp and her escort, Mike Young; senior Brenda Reece and her escort, Greg Barnett; junior Francine Holmes and her escort, Jeff Pruitt; junior Angela Hendricks and her escort, Dennis James; sophomore Michele Simpson and her escort, Barry Bishop.

SENIORS

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

The best of times:

That's the senior year. Being a senior means the privilege of going to lunch early, leaving school ahead of underclassmen, and overall just being an example to the rest of the student body.

Being a senior also means facing many difficult decisions; where to go to college, what to do for a living, and how to get along without parents' support. However, the senior year is still one of the best times in life.

Participation by many students, exemplified by the skits, and projects during the Homecoming activities, are just examples of the smooth and strong leadership exerted by this year's senior class officers.

"Ah, memories; memories like the faces of all those people who struggled thru that delicious gourmet cuisine that awaited us every day in the lunchroom. The mutated look in the eyes of the students who took calculus, chemistry, CP English 12, advanced biology, and government in the same year. And our Alma Mater, 'Who's the leader of the club that's made for you and me?' Such memories shall remain cherished in my heart forever."
Bobby Brashears

"A smile is worth a thousand words. A friend is a gift you give yourself."

"Life goes on. We must move forward into the future, but we must never forget the past. We will all follow different paths; God willing, they will all lead to success. I thank you for the honor you have given me. With God's help I will be true to it."

Eric Jedd

"Being chosen Most Dependable is a special honor. To be dependable is to be around when a friend needs you."

Erick Allen

"I think that one of the best ways to have fun is to be yourself and do it. If you worry about what others may be thinking all the time, then that ruins the atmosphere, and the only thing you have to enjoy is ulcers."

SENIOR FRIENDS

OLD FRIENDS
Make new friends,
but keep the old;
Those are silver,
these are gold.
New-made friendships,
like new wine,
age will mellow and refine.

Friendships that have stood the test —
time and change —
are surely best;
brow may wrinkle,
hair may gray,
Friendship never knows decay.

For 'mid old friends,
tried and true,
once more we our youth renew.
But old friends, alas,
may die,
New friends must their place supply.

MORE SENIOR FRIENDS

A friend is more than a casual acquaintance. He or she is someone with whom you laugh, cry, and share moments of your life.

A friend is a person you turn to in time of need, and most of all, someone you love.

Friendship may come and go as we move through different periods of our lives, or they may begin in childhood and endure a lifetime. Whichever the case, all friendships are valuable and to be treasured.

JUNIORS

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

What is a junior? It sometimes seems that a junior is like the middle child in a family, somehow caught between the attention demanded by those younger and the special privileges and authority wielded by those older. The junior year finds students who may have goofed off a little too much the year before or had difficulty getting adjusted, now faced with cracking down on the books to meet college grade requirements.

Juniors have exciting times, too. Class rings are ordered and proudly displayed. Cars can be driven to school (Mary Sluder parks in two parking spaces and James Davis hits Cadillacs and runs into churches.)

Then there are the agony and the ecstasy of raising the money for the Junior-Senior. Oh, those magazine and candy sales with threats by Mrs. Stakias that, "This year, there my not be a prom if you don't get busy".

SOPHOMORES

Even though sophomores are always the "new kids on the block", this year's group of 310 led by Greg Young (Pres.), Tracy Neil (Sec.), Michele Wilkie (Vice Pres.), and Alison Howard (Tres.) contributed greatly to our school. For example, they ran the juniors a close second in selling magazines. (This provided money for school groups and activities.)

Sophomores came to West filled with high hopes and were determined to live up to Falcon standards. According to Mr. Flynn, "They're determined to be the best."

Although sophomores could not legally drive to school, or leave for lunch early, or leave for work in the afternoons, they convinced themselves that the future would be brighter. The year of geometry, with Mr. Bryson and English with Mrs. Riggs would pass (and they hoped they would too). Survival meant becoming a junior and with Heaven's help, someday a senior.

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Mullins, assistant principal, is a familiar face on campus. In addition to heading the bus drivers, he assists Mr. Flynn in disciplinary problems. Hard work and being involved both distinguish Mr. Mullins.

Even though Mr. Flynn is known as the "BIG MAN", he never hesitated to stop and wave or return a smile. If anyone had a problem he was there to listen.

But, Mr. Flynn was no push-over. When a firm hand was needed, it was applied. For instance, ask someone who had been sentenced to Alternative Education — they'll tell you.

Mr. Flynn enjoys the autumn sun.

Mr. Kohlan J. Flynn, Principal; Mr. Carroll E. Mullins, Assistant Principal.

Mr. Flynn takes pride in W.H.H.S.

Mr. Mullins surveys a hungry bunch.

Terry Clay gives Mr. Flynn and Mr. Mullins advice on how to run the school.

OFFICE

Mrs. Renegar has been seeing to the smooth functioning of the main office for over fourteen years. Mrs. Robinson, who met our requests for several years as Mrs. Smith returned to us this year with a new husband and a new name. Both ladies usually keep their cool even under very trying circumstances.

Mrs. Robinson makes the announcements.

Mrs. Renegar puts Mrs. Robinson to work.

Mrs. Betty Robinson, Secretary; Mrs. Libby Renegar, Bookkeeper.

Mrs. Robinson looks over something for Cathy Holden.

ENGLISH

English, the only course which is required in some form every school year, presents a progression of learning from the alphabet to a study of the characters in Geoffrey Chaucer's Canterbury Tales.

There are many ways to learn, and not all take place in the classroom. Mr. Pace and 32 students made a trip into the world of early American literature with a trip to Williamsburg, Virginia. They returned intent on building a stock to demonstrate punishment as carried out in Hawthorne's The Scarlet Letter.

Mr. Pace, Mrs. Shaw, and Mrs. Adams chat in the shade.

Maybe Mrs. Riggs' Schnauzzer puppy kept her up late.

Mr. Pace in shirtsleeves? Never!

Has someone done the forbidden and entered Mrs. O'Shields' room during break?

Mrs. Mary Ellen O'Shields, college prep and general English 12; Mr. Daniel Pace, college prep and general English 11; Mr. Craig Long, college prep and general English 10; Mrs. Gail Riggs, college prep and general English 12, college prep English 10; Mrs. Eula Shaw, college prep and general English 11; Mrs. Janice Anderson, college prep and general English 10.

Mr. Long leaning back and taking it easy.

Mr. Pace busy writing another hall pass.

Mrs. Shaw displays her supervising ability.

Mrs. Anderson cleans her desk off.

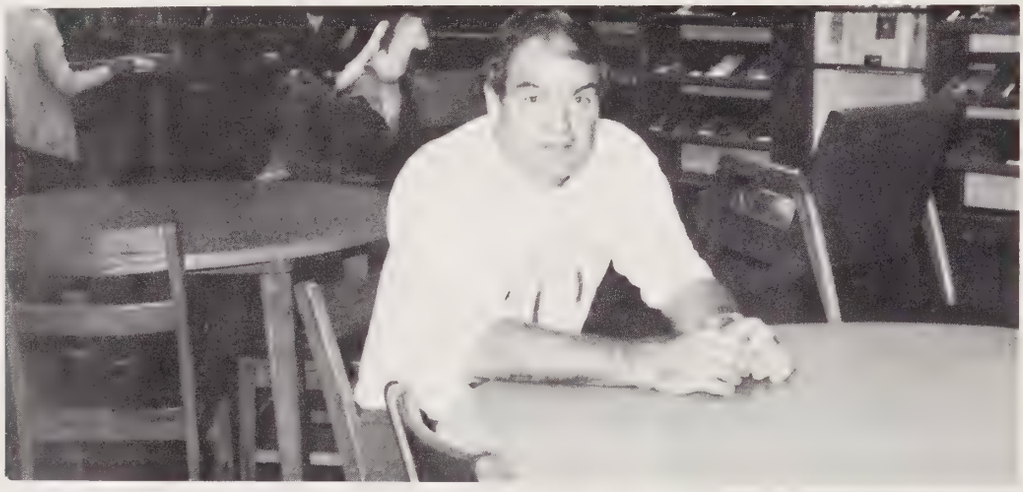
Mrs. Congdon and Mrs. Shaw take up money for the Homecoming Dance.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Things are seldom dull in the social studies department. Mr. Worley amazed students with his deep, philosophical sayings such as, "You don't take the mask off the Lone Ranger," and Mr. Jones, alias Mountain Man, and semi-professional spear chucker, was as unique as ever.

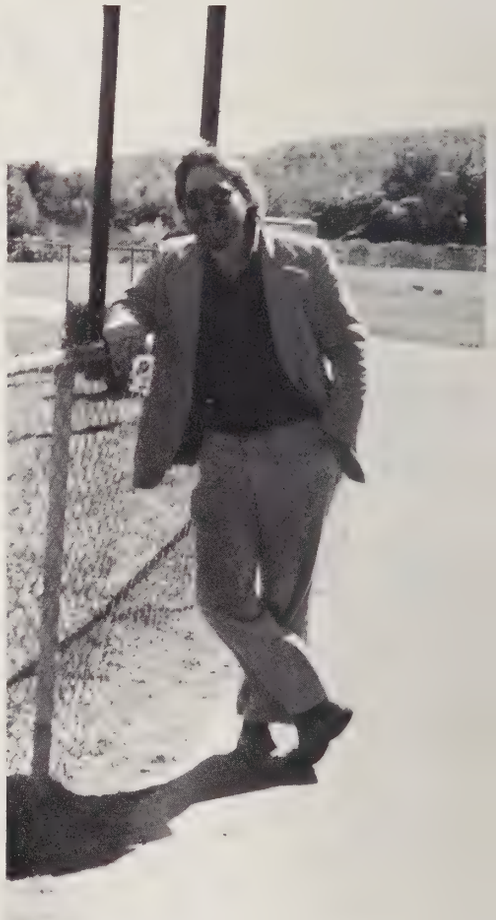
And among the myriad activities, students were still taught world history, geography, economics, American studies, psychology, and government.

Mr. Carroll Wright, U.S. Studies, World Studies, Physical Education; Mr. Luther Jones, Geography; Mrs. Janet Stakias, Government, World Studies, Yearbook; Mr. Bill Worley, World Studies, Economics; Mr. Jim McElhaney, U.S. Studies.



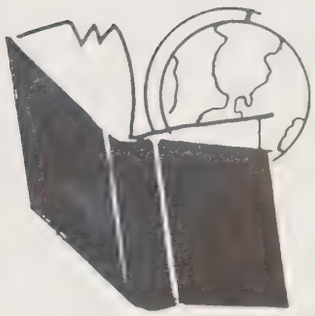
Mr. Wright relaxes in the library.

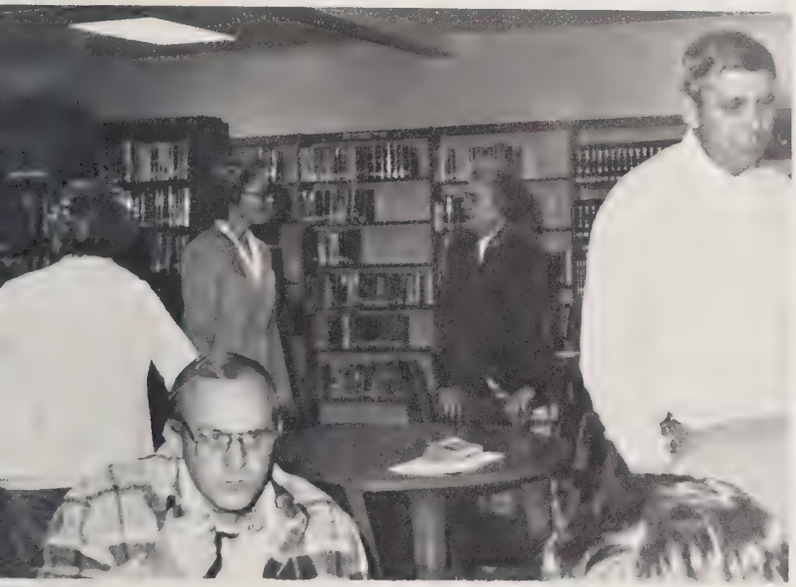
Mrs. Stakias prepares for some of those tough questions her government class can raise.



Mr. Jones "wets his whistle" at the powder puff game

Mr. Jones shows Tom Camille, Bill Patterson and Keith Matthews how to shoot a muzzle loader.





Mr. McElhaney, Mrs. Rudisail, Miss Heil and Mr. Laughter at a faculty function.

Mr. McElhaney in action in his U.S. Studies class.

Mrs. Stakias and Mark Jones look over copy for the annual.

Mr. Worley dares anyone to take his ice cream.

MATH

A song of the 40's advised us to "accentuate the positive, eliminate the negative." This may not work in every algebra problem, but the approach may make math more conquerable. Most difficulties in this subject area are caused by a poor background and/or lack of confidence. When students complain that they can't do "word" problems, Mrs. Israel, who is new to our math department this year tells them that if they can read, they can do the problem. Confidence, that's the key.

Mrs. Smith is eager to begin class.

Mr. Francis shows Mr. Rudisail how to whittle.

Mrs. Israel is never too busy to smile.

Mr. Bryson and Mrs. Ellis relax after lunch.

Mrs. Matilda Israel, Algebra I, Geometry, Consumer Math; Mr. Arnold Bryson, Advanced Math, Geometry, Consumer Math; Mrs. Mary Smith, Introduction to Algebra, Algebra II, Calculus; Mr. Howard Rudisail, Consumer Math, Business Math.

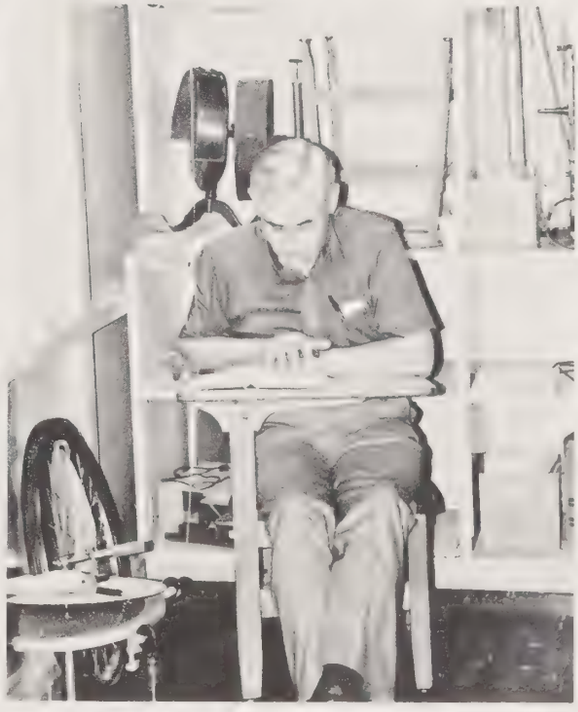
Mr. Rudisail Retires

Mr. Rudisail, who taught at West since its doors first opened in 1960 and preceded that with 5 years at Mills River and Valley Hill schools, chose to retire at mid-year. Mr. Rudisail received his undergraduate and master's degrees in math and science from Western Carolina University. While at West he taught in both subject areas. In 1980-81 he was named "Teacher of the Year" for West High. Often referred to as our resident cynic, Mr. R. will be missed, because he often made us think.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudisail at his retirement party.

Mr. Rudisail has a serious chat with Mr. Young.

A confectionary farewell to Mr. Rudisail.



Mr. Rudisail pursues a favorite pastime.

SCIENCE

The science department was relatively unchanged from past years. However, Mr. Lytton had his "cube" problems and Mrs. Adams (a new biology teacher) hated grading papers. Mrs. Wheatley, sponsor of the wrestling cheerleaders, organized a fashion show. Even Mr. Wilson was still tough and "paddle-happy".

Mr. Lytton works busily at his desk.

Mr. Wilson shows off his muscle.

Mrs. Barbara Wheatley, Biology; Mr. Jeff Lytton, Biology; Mr. Cliff Wilson, Physics, Physical Science, Chemistry; Mrs. Carmella Adams, Biology.

Mrs. Adams talks to the camera.

Brenda Staley, Mrs. Wheatley, and Kim Kesterson look at a fitness magazine

Mrs. Wheatley, Mr. Hardesty, Mr. Dotson, and Mr. Lytton take time for a quick snack.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Foreign Language:

Habla Ud. espanol? and Parle vous francias? are probably the first words learned in the Spanish and French classes.

Like children, students had to learn the basics of a language new to them. Not only do students of Spanish and French learn the language, they explore the life-styles of people in other countries and are amazed at how they differ, yet compare to us.

Mrs. Phyllis Driver, French; Mr. Marino Jarrin, Spanish.

Mr. McElhaney, Mrs. Adams and Mr. Jarrin enjoy the powder puff game.

INDEPENDENT STUDY

Gigi Childers, Anna Conner, Wendy Burchfield, Kim Gasperson, and Laura Lambert challenge each other in "Careers".

Independent study, a course for students designated as gifted and talented, provides the opportunity for research and application of topics of special interest. With the guidance of Mrs. Cogdon, students chose to delve into such areas as the French Revolution, Moonies, poetry writing, simulation, and the big allure this year, computer programming.

Mrs. Congdon, Drama, Independent Study.

Kim Gasperson and Laura Lambert know what "independent" means, but what about "study?"

Mrs. Cogdon and Sharon Williams play "choo-choo."

MUSIC

"1 and a 2 and a 3 . . . Say love not luuv . . . Breathe from your diaphragm . . . Sopranos, you can hit that note . . . "On and on Mrs. Moore struggles to bring forth an acceptable song. And let's not forget Mr. Edwards who works and works to prepare the band for football games and competition.

Music is a beautiful part of life and in chorus and band talents are discovered and encouraged.

Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Anderson have the office under control.

Mrs. Lynn Moore, Beginning Chorus, Advanced Chorus; Mr. Bob Edwards, Marching Band, Stage Band.

Mr. Edwards practices a song.

Curtis McWhorter and Angela Ward discuss a measure of music with Mrs. Moore.

Mr. Edwards laughs with Brent Crawford.

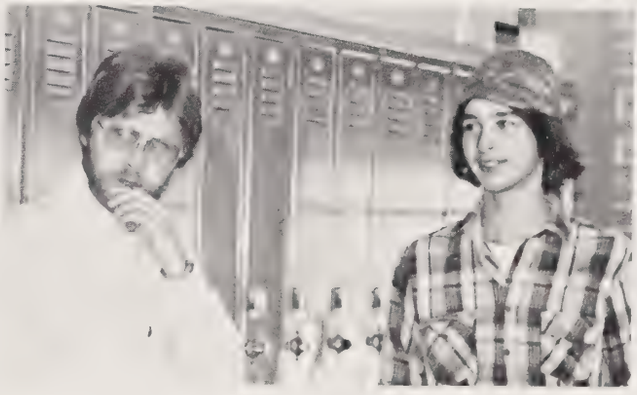
ART

Mr. Mark Phillips, Art.

Mr. Phillips with a prized possession.

Randy Carland shows his talent in art class.

Robert Kincaid and Mr. Phillips show their "art."



Mr. Phillips wonders about some of his students.

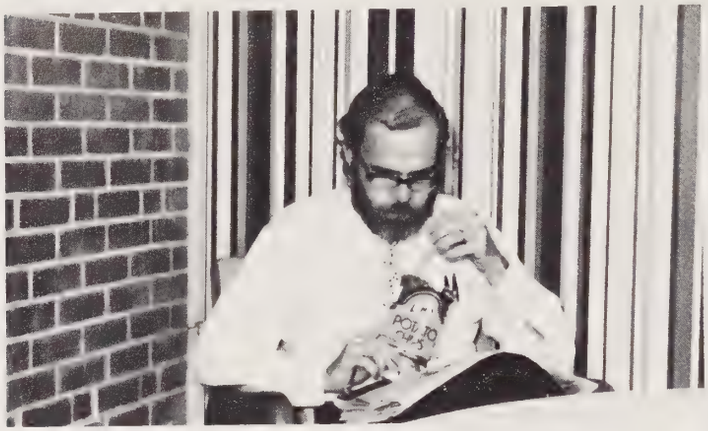
Do you think you have art talent? Art I was the course to take to find the answer. Concentration on the basics such as drawing, batik, and pottery making provided the background for further study or use as a hobby.

There were two advanced courses offered also. One class concentrated on drawing, painting, and photography. The photography club was organized as an extension of this class. Another advanced class stressed batik, pottery, silk screen, and macramé.

BUSINESS

Recently published surveys indicate that secretaries will be among the highest in demand in the job market of the near future. Not only are secretaries doing traditional jobs, but they often use these positions to move on up into managerial areas. Students in business courses usually have these opportunities in mind and look forward to such a career. Others feel that the ability to type and other skills learned will be valuable to them in college and in future jobs.

Mrs. Coggins talks with Christine Allison about FBLA.



Mr. Obergfell "munches out."

Mrs. Ellis gives business tips to someone.

Mrs. Padgett and Mrs. Graham listen intently.

Mrs. Joyce Ellis, Typing I, Business Communications, Business Law; Mrs. Joyce Coggins, Accounting, Office Occupations II, Supervision of BOE students; Mr. Kent Obergfell, Typing, Business Math; Mrs. Linda Graham, Office Occupations I, Typing II, Shorthand, Introduction to Business.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Mr. Stanley "out relaxes" Mr. Berkley and Mr. Bagwell.

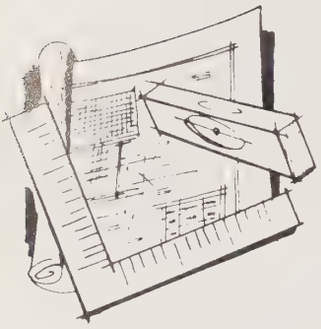
Mrs. White teaching gymnastics.

Mrs. Smith, Mrs. White, Mrs. Neill, and Mrs. Driver have fun at the Powderpuff game.

P.E. is the abbrevation for physical education, and the people who took it found that it was quite an education in physical activity.

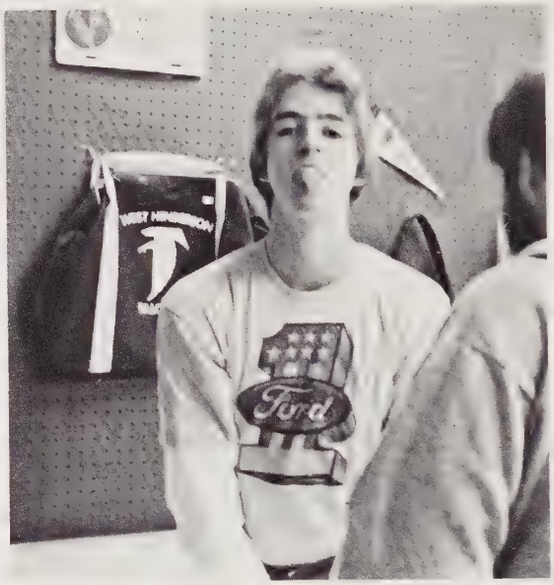
In the fall it was an excruciating and exhausting game of tag football. During the winter, something resembling basketball was played, and in the spring months, everybody's favorite, softball began. It was not a year for slackers.

Mrs. Jan White, Physical Education; Mr. Paul Bagwell, Physical Education, Psychology; Mr. Paul Stanley, Physical Education, Weight Lifting.



VOCATIONAL

Teachers show their spirit at a pep rally.



Tommy Ratcliff greets a customer in the DECA-run school store.

Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. Ketchie, Mr. Edwards, Mr. Laughter, and Mrs. Stoll catch up on the news.

Mrs. Padgett, Mr. Rudisail, Mr. Pace and Mrs. Ellis enjoy the salad bar.

Hungry tots in the Child Care Lab.

Mr. Rominger shows the proper way to drill.

Mark Shepherd waits for his instructions from Mr. Francis.

A career choice is probably the most difficult decision that confronts a young person. Our vocational department helps by offering courses of a wide variety.

Students can try their hand at carpentry, masonry, agriculture, horticulture, agricultural mechanics, etc. They can prepare for a career of homemaking or a better family life.

Supervised jobs for juniors and seniors wishing to leave school early for work are part of the D.E. Program.

Mr. Allred opens the school store for business.

Mrs. Neill shows surprise.

Mr. Duane Rominger, Carpentry I, II, III; Mr. Loyd Young, Masonry I, II; Mr. Jim Allred, Distributive Education, Careers, Supervision of DE workers; Mrs. Rose Neill, Health Occupations; Mr. Joe Francis, Horticulture, Agriculture Production; Mr. Joe Laughter, Fundamentals of Agriculture. Not pictured: Mrs. Diane Ketchie, Family Living, Foods and Housing, Advanced Home Economics; Mrs. Janice Padgett, Child Care, Child Development.

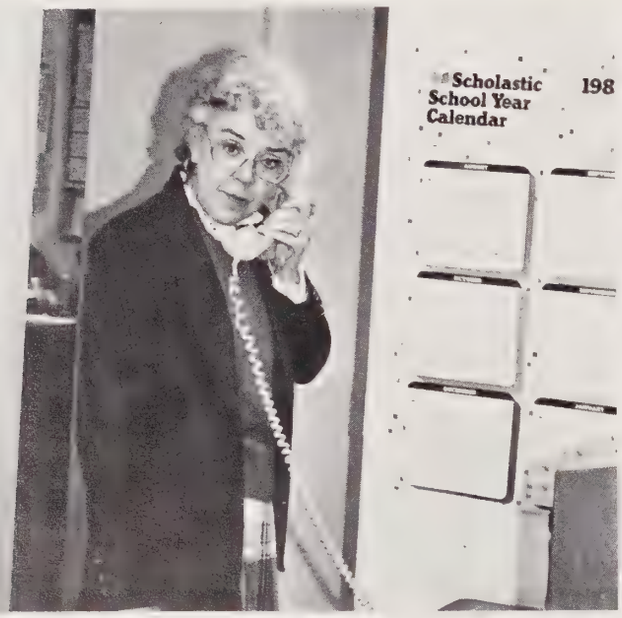
RESOURCE/ESL

The Resource Center provides specialized education in math and English. Miss Potts never fails to offer challenging work for students in her classes. There is never a doubt that her high expectations for improvement and behavior should be met.

The Essential Skills Lab was devised as a means of providing individualized help in English and/or math. A student may voluntarily, or on the recommendation of a teacher or parent, be assigned to the ESL instead of a regular class for a period of time. It is hoped that after this concentrated study, the student will be better able to meet the challenges of all courses.

Mrs. Phillips smiles about today.

Miss Potts enjoys her cozy corner.



Miss Potts helps out in the office.

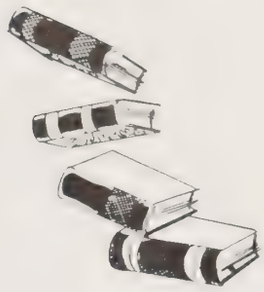
Mrs. Carolyn Phillips, Essential Skills Lab; Miss Hortence Potts, Resource

LIBRARY

Mrs. Sharon Brown, Library Aide; Mrs. Deane Hamrick, Librarian

Mrs. Hamrick prepares for another day.

Mrs. Brown is always busy.



Our library has over 14,000 books, film strips, slides, kits, and transparencies. Thanks to the help of Mrs. Hamrick and her aide Mrs. Brown, teachers and students were able to look up and/or check out problem solving materials. If you ever needed help finding a book, Mrs. Hamrick came to your rescue.

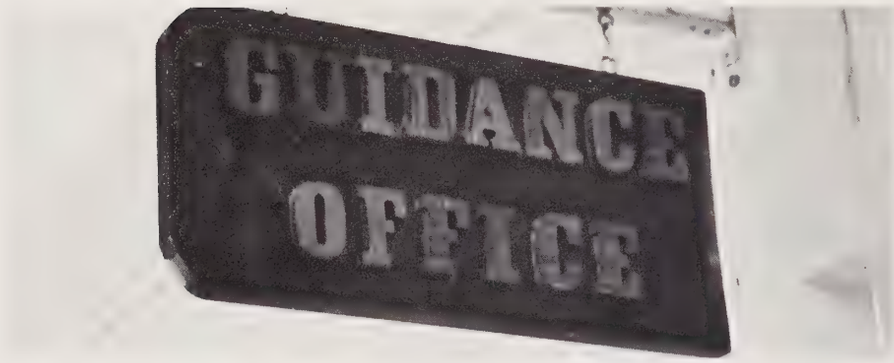
Steve Brown and Stan Snyder in deep study.

Ann Holden and Mary Wells as they let some book thieves slip by.

GUIDANCE

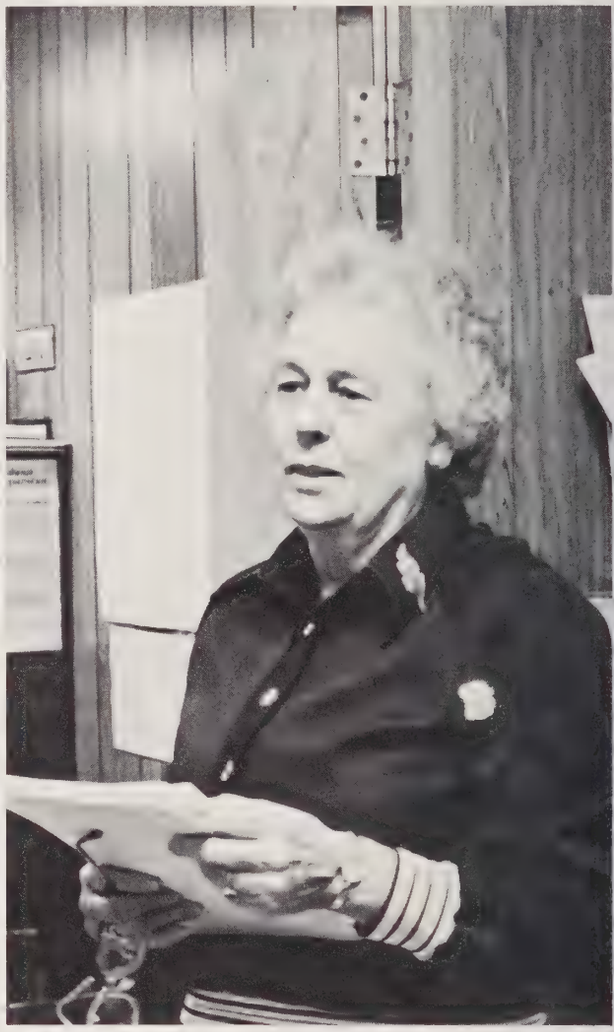
Miss Heil and Mr. Berkley are always hard at work meeting the needs of students. These needs may be emotional, academic, career related, or college oriented. Often it may be just the desire to talk to someone. Whatever the case, our guidance counselors are trained, capable and caring.

Miss Mary Ruth Heil, Guidance; Mr. Ray Berkley, Guidance; with students Debbie Davis and Shannon Edwards.



Seniors, does this look familiar?

Mr. Berkley and Mr. Laughter enjoy their "free time."



Miss Heil with more forms.

DRIVER EDUCATION
ALTERNATIVE EDUCATION

Mr. Steve Farkas, Alternative Education; Mr. Kent Teeter, Driver Education; Mr. John Dickson, Driver Education.

"Oh no. It's the dreaded trailer." What student doesn't dread the thought of being isolated with extra work assigned to them. Under the supervision of Mr. Farkas, the alternative education program disciplines students without having to expel them from school. According to Mr. Mullins, "The in-house-suspension allows students to stay in school, yet still get credit for work." He says that it works better because fewer students seem to get into trouble.

Mr. Teeter and Mr. Dickson deserve congratulations for surviving the approximately 250 fledgling drivers in their annual driver's ed classes.

General instructions: "Fasten seat belts, turn key in switch, shift to drive, cuss a little, cruise down hill, and Don't Hit Herby the Curby."

"I shot an arrow into the air . . . "

Mr. Farkas looks as though he has been sentenced to the trailer.

Mr. Dickson looks for something.

Mr. Teeter rests from the stress of a busy day.

AIDES

The teacher and office aides, who very often receive little recognition, are vitally important in many ways. They make copies from the copy machine, run errands, and are called upon to do numerous other jobs.

The library aides provide assistance at the checkout counter and shelve books.

The assistants are graded but obtain no credit.

Library Aides: Seated front: Michelle Jones. Standing: Donna Wilson, Alicia McKinney, Eric Jedd, Alan Jones, Emily Bonk.

CUSTODIANS/CAFETERIA

Custodians: Mrs. Elaine Stoll, Mrs. Virginia Dotson, Mr. Fred Dotson.

The custodians, as usual, did a good job cleaning up our messes. All the floors, walls, bathrooms . . . they kept it all clean. But, they do more than this; they brighten our days with smiles and friendly gestures. Thank You custodians.

Like on the Hardee's commercials, the cafeteria staff arrived each morning to prepare breakfast for some hungry early arrivals. Then they met the challenge of preparing lunch. With less federal subsidy money and continuing nutritional requirements, the problems were greater than before. Prices had to be increased to 85 cents for students and $1.25 for adults. "Brown bagging" and a "make-your-own" salad line proved to be very popular alternatives.

Mrs. Whitaker and Mrs. Steelman "in action."

Cafeteria Staff: Seated front: Mrs. Linda Baldwin, Mrs. Evelyn Butler, Manager, and Mrs. Judy Creasman. Back row: Mrs. Debbie Brevard, Mrs. Bessie Whitaker, Mrs. Daisy Lively, and Mrs. Rose Steelman.

Mr. Dotson can repair almost anything.

ORGANIZATIONS

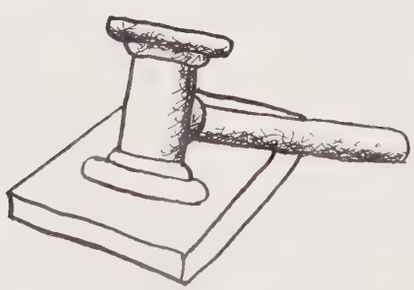
Kathy Holden talks over business with Mrs. Shaw.

Officers: Tonya Anderson, secretary; Robert Kincaid, vice president; Kathy Holden, president; Jill Westmoreland, treasurer.



Student Council's main purpose was to develop attitudes of good citizenship. When school spirit slackened, it was their job to improve morale. They did this by sponsoring activities such as "dress up week", the blood drive, the Christmas door decorating contest, and supporting Operation Santa Claus.

INTER-CLUB COUNCIL

Front row: Angela Youngblood, John Kimberling, Mr. Flynn, Sponsor, Brent Crawford, Guy Hembee. 2nd row: Rebecca Weaver, Angela Ward, Carole Pace, Beth Lucky, Jimmi Lynn Brown, Tonya Anderson, Alan Corthell.

The Inter-Club Council, which is made up of representatives from school organizations, attempts to coordinate activities and functions throughout the school year. They also do things for the benefit of the school, such as obtaining picnic tables for the creation of an outdoor eating area.

Officers: Brent Crawford, vice president; Anna Conner, secretary/treasurer; Doug Lundquist, president.

Mr. Flynn checks out a request made by Erick Allen and John Kimberling.

NHS

The National Honor Society recognizes and honors students who have distinguished themselves in scholarship, leadership, service, and character. Membership is limited to juniors with a 3.3 average and seniors with a 3.2 average. Additionally, they must be of good character and have served their school and community in specific ways. Members found time to paint falcon tracks, sponsor a family at Christmas, and fix a "goody" table for teachers during American Education week.

New Members: Front row: Bill Greene, Mike Young, Todd Neil, Tim Roberts, Mrs. Phillips. 2nd row: Kelly Stone, Sally Armstrong, Vicky Swartzel, Jan DeKeyser, Diane Williams. 3rd row: Gerain Harrell, Ryan Allison, Sonya Pittillo, Debbie Davis, Mary Wells, Emily Bonk. 4th row: Mark Gordon, Kim Wilkie, Kim Gasperson, Alan Jones, Melissa Hays, Karla Melton, Jeff Baker. 5th row: René Glenn, Glenn Wise, Cheryl Bishop, Ackie Jones.

Officers: Penni McLean, president; Kenny Davenport, vice president; Maria Ricker, secretary; Carol Parker, treasurer.

Beth Frischmann creates one of the original Division Page designs.

Carla Barnett and Mark Jones struggle to find just the right words as they write copy.

Action in the interior of a volcano and around the Westwind staff just before deadlines, is quite similar. Frantic racing to Barber's for pictures (Carole's gas bill was Arabia's joy), Ackie and Eddie using those forbidden words in referring to the ancient, reject typewriter expected to produce expert copy, Carla and Mark agonizing over wording, Debbie and Randy trying to fit in all those ads, Donna, Lisa, Cheryl, and Pam begging for help in identifying the fifth person from the left in the back row, Lorrie and Colby wishing for more coaches' candids, Sherri and Angela being sent out to take a last minute shot of that absolutely necessary picture, Mrs. Stakias going a little crazier, and Beth calmly drawing away, seemingly unperturbed — these were the agonies and the joys producing the Westwind.

The staff did its best to give you a yearbook of memories, one we all can enjoy for years to come.

KEY CLUB

The main purpose of the Key Club is to serve, in any way possible, our school, community, and churches. They do this by helping a local resident build his home, selling Halloween Insurance policies, cleaning the campus, and visiting an old folks home.

Front row: Bryan Owen, Alan Jones, Chris Law, Hardin Watkins, David Fitzpatrick, Greg Corn, Bill Myers. Second row: Mr. Pace, Robert Herbert, Donnie Wilmoth, Doug Lundquist, John Kimberling, Tim Moffit, David Law, Robert Kincaid, Tim Young, Guy Hembree, Paul Fitzpatrick, Eric Jedd. Third row: Bill Greene, Don Hardin, Gary Livingston, Alan Corthell, Colby Caldwell, Brent Brown. Fourth row: Kenny Davenport, Brent Crawford, Charles Gaffigan.

Officers: Carol Parker, senior vice president; Sherri McKelvin, historian; Heidi Owen, secretary; Kim Gasperson, president; Kim Wilkie, senior director; Karen Hamilton, junior vice president; Liz Wisher, treasurer; and Donna Parker, historian.

The Keywanettes, sponsored by Mrs. Lynn Moore, have as their goal serving the home, school, and community. Their worthwhile projects include ringing bells for the Salvation Army, the project Santa Claus, Bowl-a-thon, Faculty secret pals, and the basketball coat check.

PHOTO CLUB

Front Row: Barry Nelson, Mr. Phillips, Kim Ricks. 2nd Row: Angela Valentine, Carolyn Jackson, Everett Logan, Eddie Teck, Pat Sullivan, Beth Lucky.

Mr. Phillips, sponsor of the Photography Club, spent many afternoons teaching members different methods of photography. After experimenting with different materials and equipment, they developed and processed film. They transformed the "click and the flash" into a picture of a dramatic sports scene or some school related activity.

Mr. Phillips, sponsor; Eddie Teck, President; Carolyn Jackson, Treasurer; Kim Ricks, Secretary; Beth Lucky, Vice-President.

Officers: Amber McMinn, vice president; Karen Bowman, president; Madonna Indelicato, parliamentarian; Mrs. Janice Padgett, sponsor; Delores Pruitt, secretary; Faith Arrington, recreation leader; Robin Langdon, historian; Teresa Robinson, reporter; Dora Gray, treasurer.

HERO

The purpose of the Home Economics Related Occupations club is to help youth assume their roles in society through education in areas of personal growth, vocational preparation, and community involvement.

HERO differs from FHA in that it centers mainly around the care of children and child care related occupations. To better prepare themselves, members attended district, local and state competitions.

INS/COMPUTER CLUB

For the last ten years West has participated in Inter-Nation Simulation competition at UNC-Asheville. It has proved to be such a fascinating experience, that a group of students, unwilling to be limited to this once a year excitement, formed a club to meet throughout the year.

The club practices simulations including historical, modern, and fantasy situations. Each person takes the role of an officer of a country or possibly a planet. Maps, books and computers are used as members of the club are preparing for future events, whatever they may be.

INS Officers: Bill Greene, president; Eric Jedd, vice-president; Kim Gasperson, secretary/treasurer.

Computer Club Officers: Liz Fleurant, secretary; Jeff Moore, president; Randy Silver, treasurer; David Travers, assistant vice president; Darryl Waldroup, vice-president.

The Computer Club, newly formed this year, grew out of a special interest of the students who have learned to use the two new Apple II Computers. Members hope to promote increased use of these by all students and faculty.

Dues are collected and used toward the purchase of computer programs.

The Computer Club hopes to offer teachers help in record keeping, etc. by use of the computers.

SCIENCE/SPANISH CLUBS

Officers: Front: Edgar Martin, president; Sally Armstrong, secretary; center, Gigi Childers, treasurer; Back: Emily Bonk, vice-president; Mrs. Barbara Wheatley, sponsor.

The Spanish Club is a special interest club. Its members are those students from Spanish level one and two who wish to pursue their interests in Spanish culture beyond the classroom.

The purpose of the club is to fulfill those interests by providing a more indepth and individual look at the many facets of Spanish life.

The club members enjoyed direct contact with various cultures through such activities as trips to Mexican restaurants, visits by natives of Spanish speaking countries, preparing Spanish foods, songs etc.

Front row: Dawn Suttles, Mr. Jarrin, Wendy Cannon, Bobbi McCombs, Sonya Pittillo, José Case, Jeff Baker. On ladder: Stephanie Smith, Kim Austin, Teresa Maxwell, Jimmi Lynn Brown, Shari Sprinkle, Tonya Anderson, Donna Wilson.

Officers: Kim Austin, secretary; Tonya Anderson, treasurer; Señor M. Jarrin, sponsor; Jimmi Lynn Brown, president; Stephanie Smith, vice-president.

The Science Club raised money for the science department by participating in and promoting community projects such as the recycling of natural resources. Among their activities were nature hikes to Looking Glass, a ski trip to Wolf Laurel, a weekend camping trip to Bear Wallow, and a field trip to Pisgah Forest. They also visited scientific and industrial facilities such as Pisgah's Fish Hatchery.

Front row: Bobbi McCombs, Traci Neil, Robin Langdon, Cheryl Goforth, Kim Austin, Becky Moore, Joanne Carlson, Jill Westmoreland, Nancy Allen, Mrs. Congdon. 2nd row: Cindy Plemmons, Sherry Smith, Pennie McLean, Elura Smith, Rita Davis, Sheri McCutchean, Amy Dixon, Anna Conner, Sherry Aytes, Carrie Williams, Sharon Williams. 3rd row: Darren Lackey, Bear McCombs, Lisa Henderson, Alan Hudson, Carol Parker, Hardin Watkins, Liz Wisher, Thia Stewart, Glenda Ross, David Law, Karen Hamilton, Sherri Tomlinson. 4th row: Bill Greene, Brent Brown, Everette Logan, Heidi Owen, Pam Ward, Tim Goode, Eric Jedd, Paul Norris, Bobby Brashears, Don Hardin. 5th row: Robert Kincaid, Donna Parker, Karen Bowman, Guy Hembree.

A scene from "The Lion, The Witch, and The Wardrobe" shows that beavers can talk too.

Drama students learned the basics of theatre, costumes, make-up, set design, literature, and acting. Under the direction of Mrs. Congdon, they developed productions of professional quality such as "The Lion, The Witch and The Wardrobe." Six performances of this children's play were presented. Students, brought over from the area elementary schools were fascinated by the three-dimensional make-up and costumes of the animal characters. Mrs. Congdon made the costumes with the assistance of Kim Duggins' mother on the lion outfit. The masks and make-up were designed by former West student, Hilliard Ballard who has studied make-up design at UNC-Asheville.

THESPIANS

The Thespian Troupe 970, formed to promote interest in theatre, the community, and professionalism, is sponsored by Mrs. Congdon. With her leadership, they performed in competitions, school assemblies, the May Day skit and community performances. They also participated in the N.C. Festival of the Arts and performed for the Senior Citizens and the Eliada Orphanage.

1: Officers: clockwise: Alan Hudson, vice-president; Mrs. Barbara Congdon, sponsor; Bobbi McCombs, historian; Pamela Ward, president; Heidi Owen, secretary; Sherri Tomlinson, treasurer.

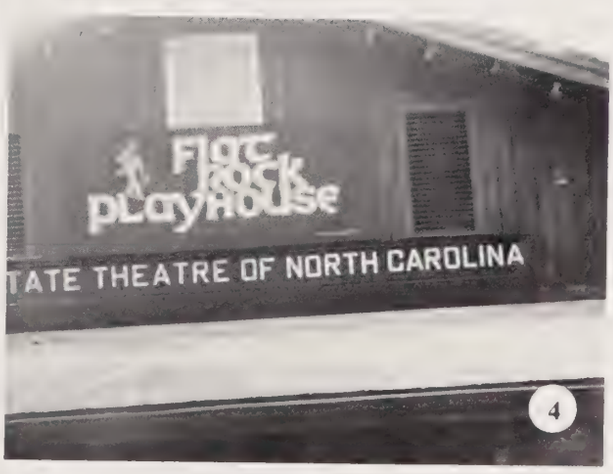
3: Carol Parker and Pam Ward show you what a little make-up can do.
4: The Thespians perform at the Flat Rock Playhouse.



FBLA

The Future Business Leaders of America had a busy year filled with attendance at district leadership conferences and competitive events with other FBLA organizations. These activities complemented, strengthened, and were integral parts of instruction in the vocational program. Christmas was a busy time with decorations for the main office and a greeting card delivery service.

Front row: Vonnie Mills, Kyle Nelson, Sheila Justice. 2nd row: Alicia McKinney, Susan Justice, Wanda Frady, Angela Valentine, Darlene McCrary, Michelle Munro, Sarah Harrington, Pam Elliott, Cathleen Roberts. 3rd row: Mrs. Linda Graham and Mrs. Joyce Coggins sponsors, John Raines, Lisa Kileen, Angela Mills, Mary Wells, Debbie Davis, Nancy Allen, Lisa Huggins, Cathy Holden, Anthony Barrow, Mary Kay Orr, David Stephenson, and Mrs. Joyce Ellis, sponsor. 4th row: Janét Clark, Christine Allison, Melody Roper, Guy Hembree.

Sheila Logan and Donna Baker give a last minute touch-up to Rus Wayne before leaving for state leadership conference.

The WHHS chapter of the Distributive Education Clubs of America helps to develop future leaders in the field of marketing and distribution. Among numerous activities were District Leadership Conferences, State Leadership Conferences, District Contest meetings, Christmas parties, employer-employee luncheon, employer-employee banquet, ski trips to Wolf Laurel, installation of officers, fund raising projects, and radio programs during National DECA week.

DECA has sponsored the student phone directories. They also give students an opportunity to buy school supplies in the school store, which is operated by DECA members.

Carla Roberson and Lisa Hedrick consider being in F.H.A. a treat.

Every year the Future Homemakers of America helps members assume their roles in society through home economics education, training for personal growth and family life, vocational preparation, and community involvement. Members attended district rallies and a state convention, helped provide for a family at Christmas, and held a bake sale. On December 18, they wore garments which they made themselves.

Officers: Janet Lemons, secretary; Jennifer Lee, historian; Kim Barnwell, vice president; Kim Lemmons, refreshment chairman; Karen Carey, reporter; Sherri Simpson, county officer; Brenda Reese, treasurer; Mrs. Diane Ketchie, sponsor.

HOSA

A special BP (blood pressure) check on campus was just one of the activities of the Health Occupation Students of America this year. They seasonally decorate the Pediatric Department at Pardee Hospital, attend a leadership workshop in the Fall, and assist the District in a fund raiser (rock-a-thon or skate-a-thon) for diabetes, a national HOSA project.

Health Occupations provides an exposure to a wide variety of opportunities in the health field and especially provides learning experience for those students interested in health-related jobs.

Beginning Chorus provided its students with choral experience necessary for good singing. In addition to singing, the chorus learned to breathe correctly and to listen for note intervals. Most of class time, though, was alloted to perfecting songs for performance.

Singing at elementary and junior high schools is but one of the activities of the West High Singers. They also perform for local civic organizations. Selected students participate in a music clinic at Mars Hill College and also Honors Chorus. Teaching advanced study of choral music, Mrs. Moore strives for a group of high caliber polished enough to perform at All State competition.

Beginning Chorus: Front row: Carla Barnett, Nancy Allen, Inga Penland, Pam Ward, Kristi Marlow, Lisa Dockery, Annette Garren, Mrs. Moore. BUS DRIVERS

Bus drivers must exhibit maturity and prove themselves capable of handling responsibility in order to get and keep their jobs. They must maintain the safety of their passengers at all times. Passengers, however, must follow a few common sense rules, such as keeping arms and heads inside the windows and staying at least four feet back from the road while waiting for the bus.

Drivers are also required to keep their buses clean, and many show their pride with extra effort.

4. Bus Drivers: Front row: Everette Logan, Rene Merrill, Merle Quinby, Tony Galloway, Ronnie McCraw, Jimmy Wilmoth. Second row: Gene Brown, Tim Lanning. Back row: Steve Owens, Scott Wilson.

FCA

Promoting Christian fellowship and encouraging students to live for Christ on a day-by-day basis is the purpose of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Guest speakers such as Todd Eaton, Beth Parker, and Stan Swartzel were a tremendous influence on members. Music for meetings was performed by members Vicki Swartzel and Tonya Baldwin. Devotions were given by Carol Parker, Melissa Hays, Michele Laughter, and others.

Carroll Wright, Head Football Coach, Athletic Director

Paul Stanley, Football, Girls' Softball

Our Athletic Department had many welcome additions this year. New Athletic Director and head football coach, Carroll Wright, has turned our athletics into something that has become respectable. With the addition of football coaches Paul Stanley and Craig Long and cross country coach Steve Farkas, our fall sports have become something to talk about. Coach Jan White has singlehandedly turned our women's sports around to become very competitive. She coached volleyball to a second in the Little Mac and the varsity girls' basketball to compete with such powers as Mtn. Heritage. Those who have participated in sports have come in contact with some if not all of our most colorful coaches. Who could forget coach Wright's famous words "Goode, you chilly-dipped another one". Or coach Stanley's pre-practice warm-ups.

Yes we have a colorful staff, yet this staff molds people into better persons by demonstrating the qualities of teamwork, discipline, and respect.

VOLLEYBALL

The 1981-82 Volleyball team, with 10 out of the 15 members being seniors, meant leadership and experience. The team finished the season with a 14-3 record, which was good enough to land them a second place finish in the Little Mac Conference. The team also captured a first place finish in the Henderson County Tournament. Seniors Gigi Childers and Kathy Rhymer were chosen as All-Conference players for their fine performances.

Sophomores Darla Pinkerton and Deirdre Hensley prepare to receive the ball in J.V. action.

RESPECT

This year's 1981-'82 varsity football team's goal was to gain respect. A respect that the community would be proud of. But more important, a respect that the team could be proud of. With a record of 5 wins and 5 losses, and with the stiff competition as Brevard, East, Owen, and Hendersonville, the team as well as the community feels they have laid the groundwork for better things in the future.

This year's team was one of young and inexperienced players, as there were only seven seniors. These seven seniors brought about leadership and pride, which rubbed off on the younger players.

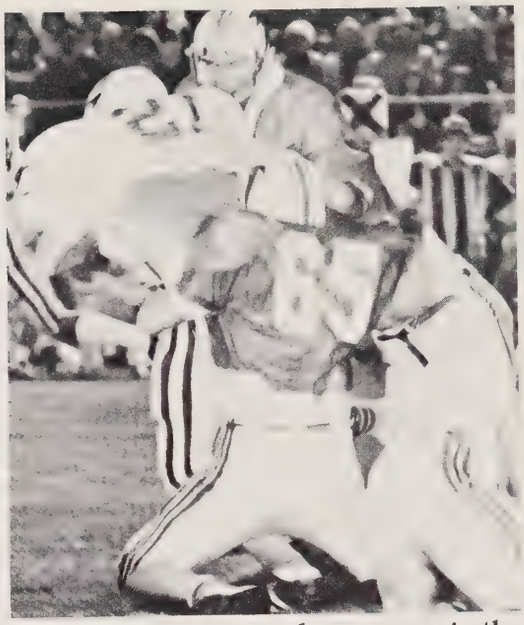
ville game. With 47 seconds left, Junior Reese Combs, filling in for the injured Keith Moore, launched a desperation pass that was right on target to the receiver, 68 yards in all to pull out the win.

Again in the East and Hendersonville games it went to the wire. West had the ball each time when the clock ran out, but failed to score.



Gang tackling proves to be a weapon in the team's pocket of tricks.

Offensive coordinators, Coaches Wright and Stanley, discuss strategy with Keith Moore.

West came alive this year on defense as well as on offense. Offensively, sophomores Vince Washington and Keith Moore, and juniors Brian Osteen and Reese Combs proved that West could be a scoring threat. Defensively, juniors Robert Scott and Randy Lanning left opponents in a daze after bone-crunching tackles.

Junior Colby Caldwell gains yardage for West.

Sophomore Keith Moore raises to fire a pass.

Linemen Scott Stewart (66), George Entwistle (73) and Robert Scott (67) take a breather from their unrecognized job in the trenches.

Junior Brian Osteen (21) and senior Gary Barnwell (31) seek out oncoming opponents to block.

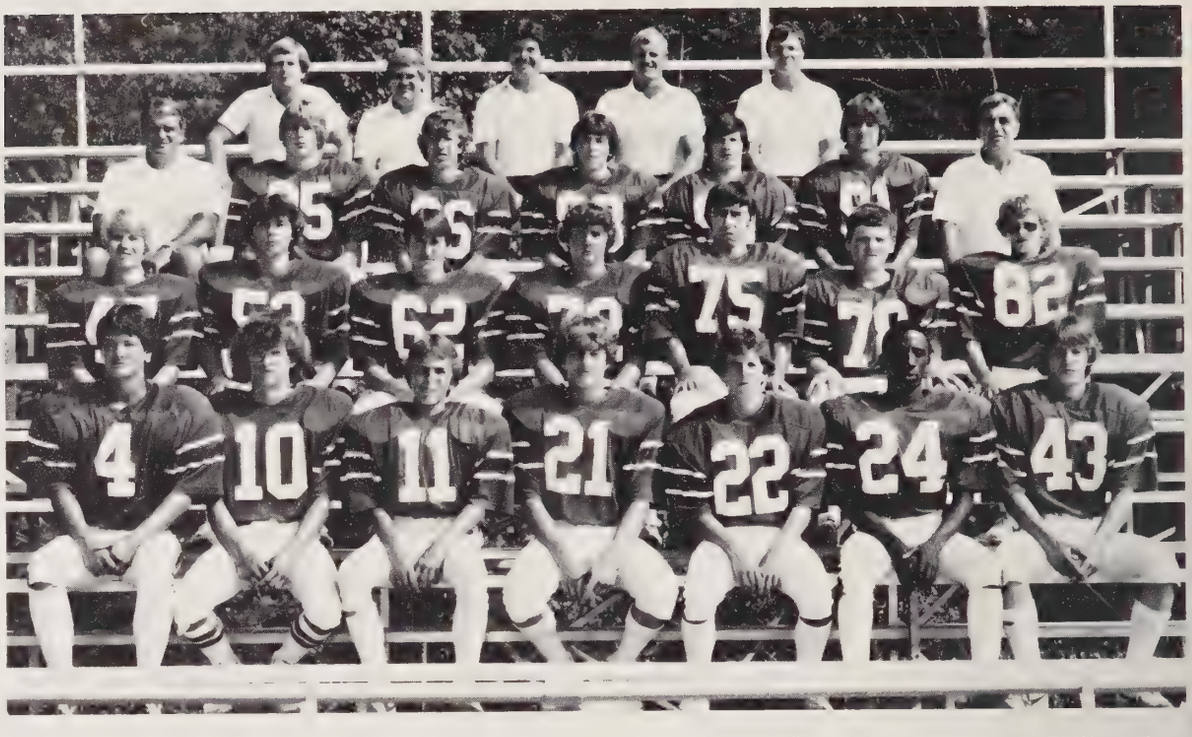
Coach Carroll Wright watches his team while plotting his next play.

All in all this proved to be quite an exciting year for West football fans. A year that brought about a new feeling and a new respect, a year that gave people something to look forward to next year.

With 95% of the team returning next year, and with the building support, next year should be an exciting season.

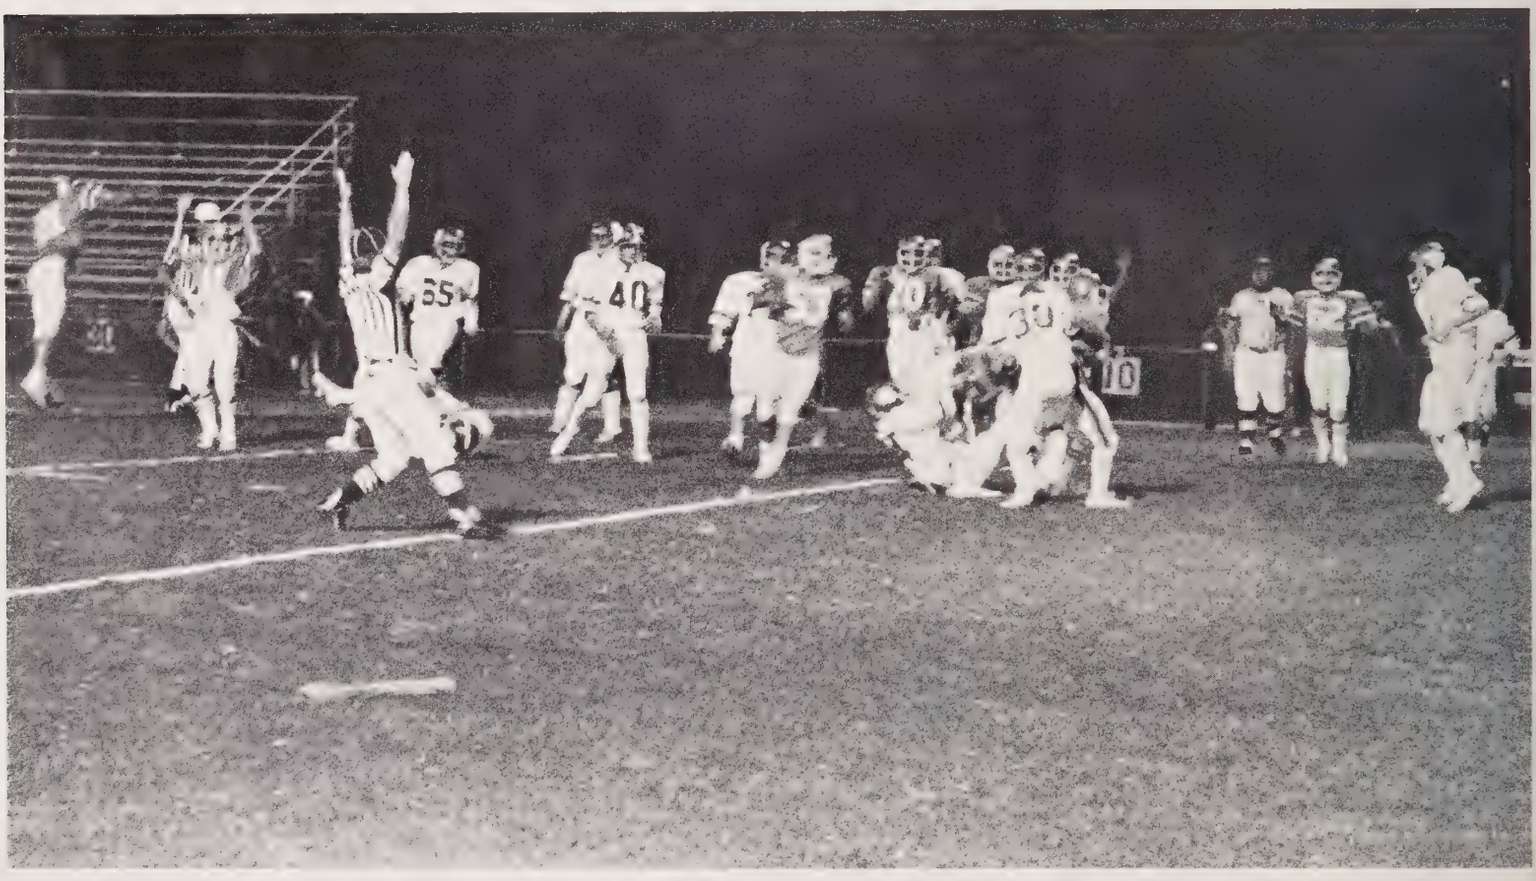
J.V. FOOTBALL

This year's JV football team was one of little size but big heart. They played Big Mac teams such as Erwin and Pisgah, and came out on top. They fought to the finish with every team and their record shows it: 4-1-1. With this kind of showing, there is a bright future for the football program in future years.



1st row: Eddie Teck, Dale Pressley, Sammy Johnson, Don Jones, Greg Mease, Anthony Pulley, Eric Penland. 2nd row: Dan Askew, Richard Hensley, Ronnie Goforth, Mal Callahan, Scott Lewis, Hardin Watkins, Ricky Davis. Back row: Tony Youngblood, Bruce Penland, Gregg Finch, Chuck Poston, Fred Cogdill.

With much jubilation, the J.V.'s ram another touchdown in. This was a frequent occurrence with the speed of sophomore Eric Penland and power of Anthony Pulley.



Hustling toward the ball, the JV's show their power.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

The Varsity Cheerleaders represent West High in Apple Festival Parade.

Kathy Crisp and Jimmi Lynn Brown paint the new lockers in the varsity locker room.

The 1981-82 Varsity Cheerleading squad began preparing for this year's action back in the summer when they attended the NCA Cheerleading Camp at the University of Tennessee. They started their season by supporting the football team even in the rain at T. C. Roberson and the cold wind at Hendersonville. They were behind the team in victory or defeat. The end of foothall season came, but their spirit began to surge again with the opening of basketball season. They led pep rallies and spurred the Falcons to victory. They also selected varsity basketball players as secret pals. The squad had a new look with the addition of Skeeter Hudson, Todd Neil, Tim Moffitt, Sammy Johnson, and Greg Young. Good idea, huh?

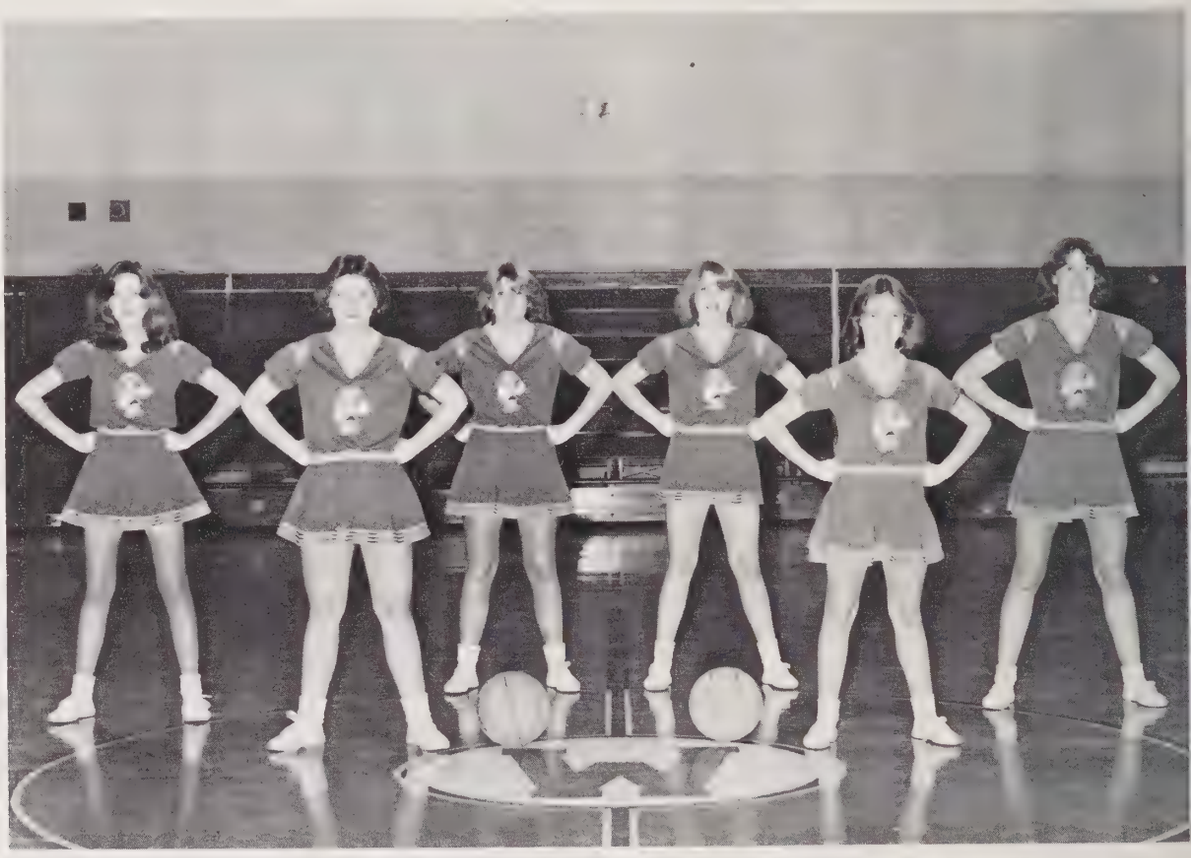
J.V. CHEERLEADERS

The J.V. cheerleaders enliven the crowd with their spirit-filled cheers.

The cheerleaders show their spirit by participating in the Apple parade.

Building a pyramid can be hazardous.

The J.V. cheerleaders helped lead the team to a successful year. By fixing breakfast on game days, they gave "material" support as well as moral support. No matter what the temperature was, the cheerleaders provided the spirit the team as well as the crowd needed to cheer the JV's victory.



Beth Lucky, Traci Neil, Michele Simpson, Becky Moore, Carol Haynes, Julie Hunter.

WRESTLING CHEERLEADERS

Ackie Jones, Carol Masters, Janet Lemons, Pam Orrok, Carolyn Wilkie, Diane Rickman.

The wrestling cheerleaders have been the most innovative group of cheerleaders this year. Each match day, they decorate the starting wrestlers' lockers in a most colorful way, by using construction paper and aluminum foil. They showed lots of spirit during the pep rallies and the matches. Much imagination was used in the different sets they performed. The wrestling cheerleaders are sponsored by Mrs. Barbara Wheatley.

One of the many expressions of the sport — hope.

The 1981 wrestling team had a super year. With the senior leadership of Jimmy Wilmoth and Willy Pulley. The young riding sophomores made the lower weight class something to reckon with.

Wrestling is a sport that takes endurance, strength, and brains. Much practice is put in after school and during P.E. Weight deadlines always bring terror to Chuck Kilpatrick or Randy Carland. Cliff Wilson, the coach, has made this sport one that takes quite a person to participate.

The 1981-82 Boys' Varsity Basketball Team was led by second year coach Jim McElhaney. The team of 13 consisted of six seniors who have all contributed to the basketball program at West since their sophomore year. The remaining team consisted of 6 juniors and 1 sophomore, Tim Trantham. The team got off to a good start with an opening win over T.C. Roberson 47-43. They were also able to capture wins over Mitchell, North Buncombe, Mtn. Heritage, and Madison to compile a mid-season record of 5 and 5. Some special recognition should go to the sixth senior, Raymond Mathis, for his great contribution to the team.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The 1981-82 Girls Varsity Basketball team was led by first year coach Jan White. Even though they started with a new coach, the team was filled with experience. The team of 15 contained seven seniors with five of them being starters.

The team really gave the fans something to get tense about with a last second shot by Connie Watkins to defeat East Henderson. Hustle was the name of the game for everyone when the team went to Owen, because that and a lot of points like the 22 scored by Gigi Childers were needed for the big conference win. The loss of seven seniors will be big, but the Lady Falcons will still be fine contenders in the Little Mac Conference.

CROSS COUNTRY

Our cross country team again had another good year. Though it was a small team, it ran with vigor and stamina. Cross country is a sport of self-motivation and a sport of loneliness. When you are running, there is nobody to keep pushing you when you are lagging. It is truly an individual sport.

True Love

My love for you is very strong
My heart beats faster everyday
I love you so much it hurts me
Everytime you walk away.

Its time to say I love you
Its time we're together
Its time we made a life of our own
And live happy forever.

Thank you West High for caring and accepting me the way I am. I'll always remember you and the class of '82'. I'd like to say a special thanks to the very important people in my life during these memorable years at West. Thanks and I love ya! But most of all, a very special thanks to Marc Judd, for making my sophomore, junior, and senior years, times I will never forget. I love you Marc, thanks for being you and no one else. Thanks Mom and Dad. I love you.

Angela Ward

If there has been someone special, someone that has made this year one to cherish, it has been you, Carole. The special times we've had, (and I hope we will have) are ones that are forever tucked away in my heart, never to be forgotten, always to be remembered. You have become my sunshine, the twinkle in my eyes, and the warmth in my heart. Thanks.

Much love,
Colby

LOOKING BACK

As the year 1981-'82 drew to an end, memories, pleasant and some not so pleasant, flooded our minds. Many seniors looked forward to graduation, yet some were hesitant to leave the familiar scenes of West forever. The juniors wanted very much to be "big seniors" and the "top of the heap", while sophomores became involved in school activities.

Kathy Crisp and Jill Westmoreland show David Fitzpatrick the preppie look of the 1920's.

No school today! Inset: Jeff Pruitt and Francine Holmes enjoy a balmier day.

Tammy Shipman, Kim Wilkie and Patty Nugent ham it up.

Tima Jones and Pam Ward befriend Mike Holden's pet Spitz.

Lorne Duncan and Stan Galloway enjoy the afternoon sun during their lunch break.

Lorna Pait and Kim Ballard look longingly at someone's roses.

Joe Barnwell and Lisa Henderson enjoy their times together.

Robin Langdon and Zeb Brevard at the Pizza Hut, the favorite hangout after ballgames.

REMEMBER?

Delmar representative, Keith Shanty, (2nd from left), and musical friends entertain Advanced Chorus, Drama, and Annual Staff with music and dance.

Charles Gaffigan, Pam Settle, Mark Davis, and Thia Stewart, pose for the camera.

Junior powder puff team take a breather during their losing battle against the seniors.

Brenda Reese, Kim Gasperson, and Mike Young wait patiently as Laura Lambert searches for Heidi Owen's lost note.

A usual scene in Mrs. O'Shields' unusual senior class.

Debbie Cantrell and Bobbi McCombs "chicken fight" in "Y" building.

Hutch (Edgar Martin) heroically pushes Sally (Jerry Cavagnaro) into the path of an oncoming bullet.

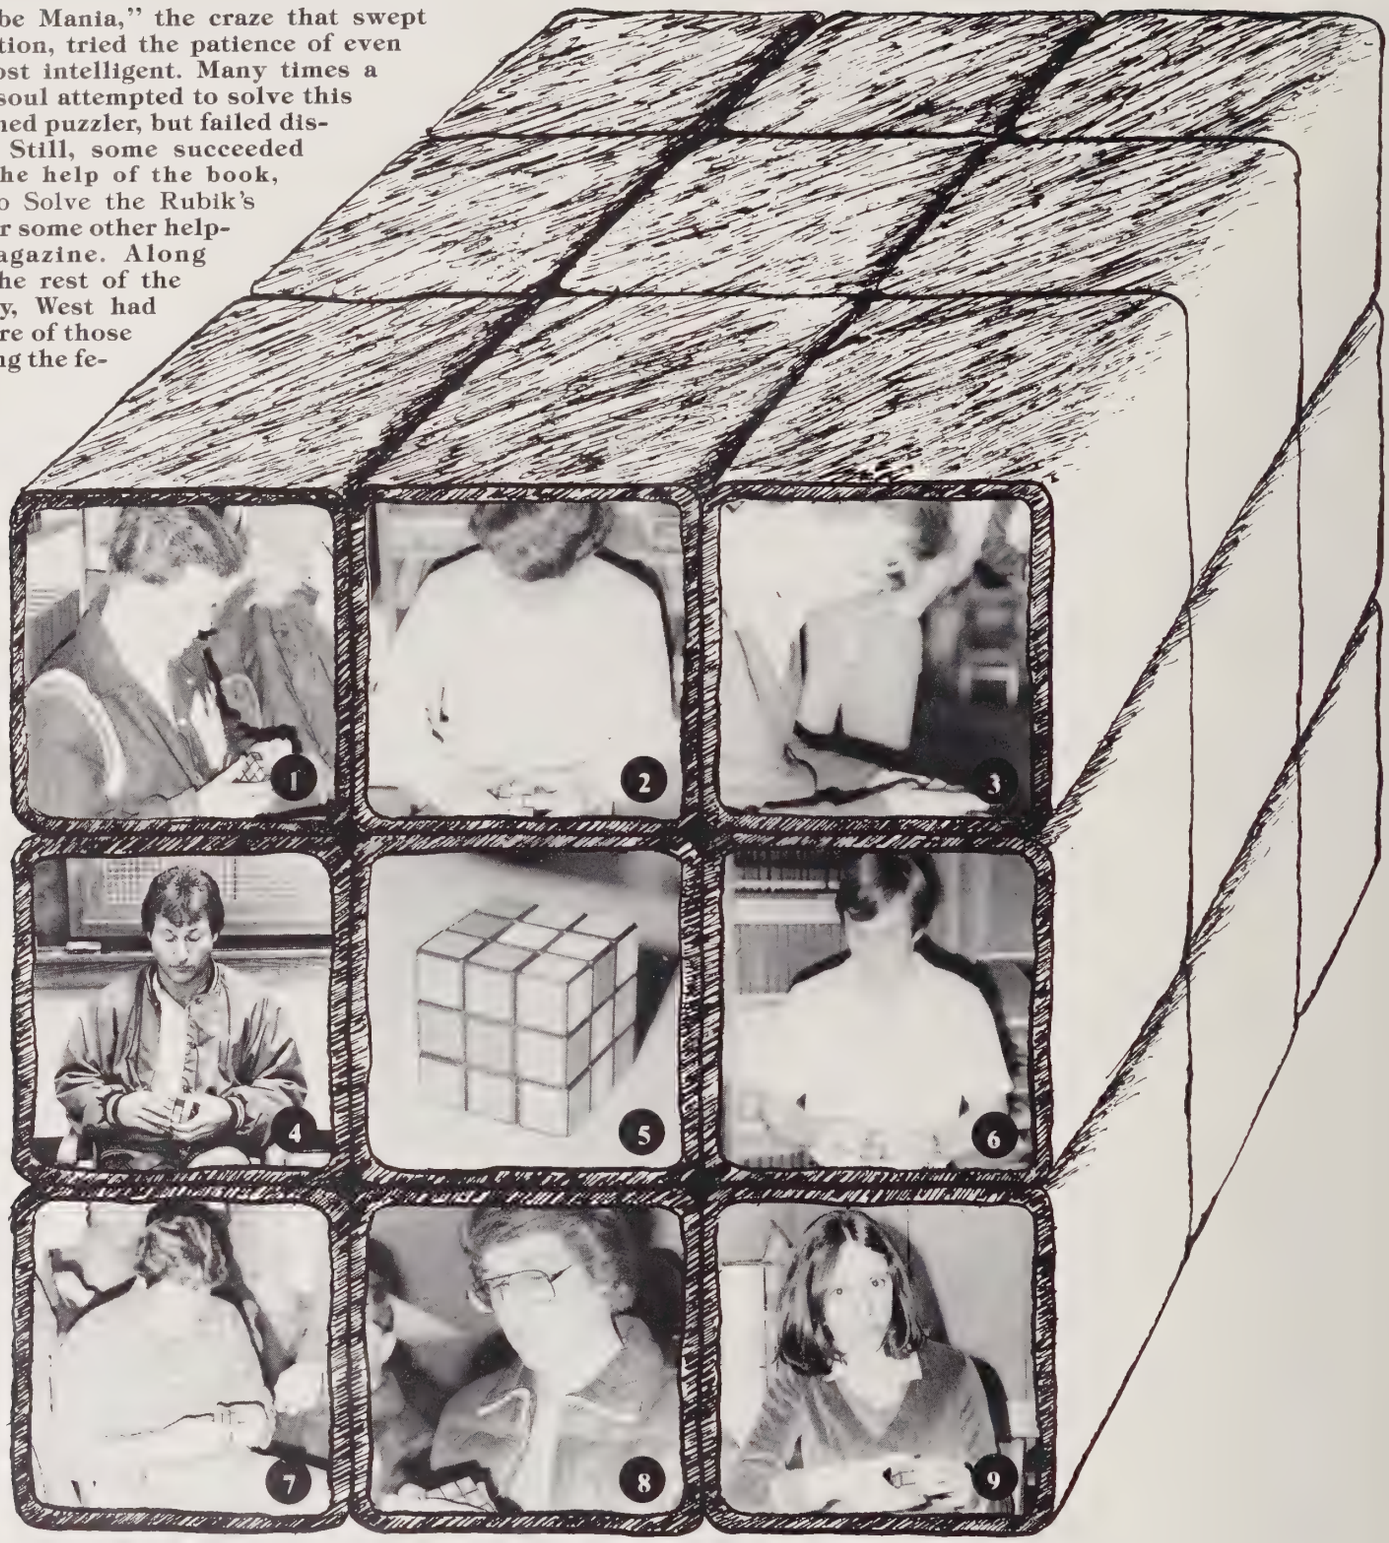
A tractor-trailer rig, built from 2500 match sticks by Ronnie McCraw and Lonnie Johnson, pulls into a filling station.

Westwind Editor, Carole Pace, collapses after a long hard day.

During this year we have all been drawn together in one way or another. As much as we hate to admit it, school is and was a big part of our lives. The friendships that we have made and the struggles and hardships that we have been through have been well worth it.

CUBE CRAZE

"Cube Mania," the craze that swept the nation, tried the patience of even the most intelligent. Many times a brave soul attempted to solve this renowned puzzler, but failed dismally. Still, some succeeded with the help of the book, How to Solve the Rubik's Cube or some other helpful magazine. Along with the rest of the country, West had its share of those catching the fever.



The Westwind Staff, eager to discover a Rubik's Cube champion, sponsored the Rubik Olympics. Results were: 1st place, Brent Crawford (picture 1) with a whirlwind speed of 1 minute 12.85 seconds. Coming in second was Mark Jones (picture 2), and third Jim Nabors (picture 3).

Considering themselves experts emeritus, Mr. Lytton (picture 4) and Mr. Worley (picture 6) did not enter the contest. Others frustrated by The Cube are Bryan Owen (picture 7), Glenn Suhy (picture 8), and student teacher in Spanish and French Maria Ashbrook (picture 9).

To Someone Special,

With love,

Many people have said that an editor's life is a dog's life. But a dog's life isn't all that bad. Yet at times when the deadline comes and the layouts don't, when certain people don't know how to spell "senior", and when it snows two days before a deadline, the "dog's life" description is worth considering. An editor's role is one of much worry and never-ending frustration, but it is also a role with tremendous satisfaction.

I have much to be thankful for. West has filled these most exciting years of my life, making them something to treasure.

My hope is that you will see yourself somehow, somewhere in this recollection of this past year, for that is what its purpose is: To touch each and every one of you in a special and unique way.

Carole Pace
Westwind Editor
